“Granny, I want to thank you for raising a wonderful polite, honest lover of Jehovah and then accepting me as your daughter in law. You we\re a tough ole bird, but with some persuasion you taught this white girl how to make some mean collards and taters. It was my honor to care for you during your last days. You rest now, until you \“hear his voice and come out.\” where we will all be together again. Until then, see ya Sig.
