

Carol Richards

September 3, 2013

Carol Richards (nee Newman) passed away September 1, 2013. Beloved wife of Donald. Cherished mother of JD Smith (Barbara), Rhonda Ledbetter and the late Darryl Smith. Sister of the late Alan, Jean and Bobby. Daughter of the late Clare and Richard Newman. Loving grandmother of Melinda (William) and great grandmother of Naomi and Lillian. Carol was a dancer and artist who loved animals and shopping. In lieu of flowers, family suggests donations to Southwest Hospice Services 18659 Drake Road, Strongsville, OH 44136 or? Holy Family Cancer Home 6707 State Road, Parma, OH 44129. www.clevelandcremation.com

Tribute Wall

ER

“ Although you experienced many sorrows in your life, you were always able to find humor and happiness with people and nature. My condolences all others who's lives were touched by Carol.

Erich - September 09, 2013 at 11:47 AM

CZ

“ I know how much you did for so many. When we able to spend time together you were loving and kind. May you be at peace dancing in the clouds. Love you. <3

Chatine Zsaludko - September 07, 2013 at 06:04 PM

AE

“ \” People will forget what you said, People will forget what you did. But people will never forget how you made them feel\”Aunt Carol always made me feel loved and welcome. All of the times I spent with her back when I was young and more recently were always filled with good memories. One of the last times I saw Carol she explained to me that she did not fear death, that she had experienced it before. She told me that she remembered seeing everyone around her, and that she felt at peace, no fear, no regret and no sadness. She said it was the most wonderful feeling. I will miss her, her deers and even the sneaky raccoons. While, I am sad that she is gone, I can not help but smile to know she has the peace that she spoke of and some amazing company with her in Heaven. All of My Love Always, AmyMy heart goes out to you all in your time of sorrow...

Amy Eckhart - September 07, 2013 at 04:17 PM