“ Had a vivid dream about Uncle Jerry last night (early morning). Daytime. Sunshine. He drove up in a large vintage convertible (I didn't register the make) and slowed to a stop beside me in a tree-lined lakeside parking lot. He said, "Hi, Joey. What's shakin'?" And he let go with one of his favorite absurd rhetorical one-liners. Rolled off his tongue like poetry: "If a chicken and a half laid an egg and a half in a day and a half, how long would it take a monkey with a wooden leg to kick the seeds out of a watermelon?" Then he smiled his stellar smile and gave a chuckle - you know the one. Irresistible. Then I woke to my morning alarm; grinning. Thanks for every single laugh, Uncle Jerry.
