“ Jack our prayers go out to you and yourAmazing faimly. When we met you 3 years ago we still remain in awe of your continuous courage and strength and when the world is against these kids there you are to pick up the puzzle pieces to make them whole again. You meet people in life that change your life for the better and that is what you do when you meet everyone. We may never know the true horrors of what these kids have been through but we remain their support systems to pick up the puzzle pieces and attempt to make them whole. You are a truly special person and this too shall pass, how do I know because of the new special recruit that begins to do weekend visits and the process such as life goes on, god bless you and the important work that you do!!!
