“ Hi'a babe. I still on earth screwing up. I miss you daily and curse you a lot but the cursing gets me through the rough spots. It always did help me to blame everything on you because you could take it and help me (our inside joke). If God could grant me one wish it would be to have you back. Life was much easier when I had you here to share shits and giggles with. Love you always

“ Babe, you have been gone over a year and I still die inside but I am trying to move to another chapter in my life. It is probably exactly the way you thought I would go, you knew me so well, so there should be no surprise to you about the actions I am taking. I still do and will always always love you. Time is passing but I'm still coming soon. Love ya

“ Well babe, a little over 9 months now and the pain is still never ending. I can't accept that you left me so fast, you were my everything. I love and miss you so much that I wish I could have followed you in two days like I always said I wanted to do. But, you left me these great children and grandchildren that I make myself believe they need me. I will see you soon though. Love you with every thread of my heart.

“ Dear Friends and family of Butch. I just want you all to know Butch was one great person. I knew him for many years. I knew his parents, his brother John, his cousins, his wife and children. Butch loved baseball in school and got me into interested in the game. Along with being a big Elvis fan, Butch was vary well liked and was vary popular in school. He was straight up and honest. Some people called him Butch, some called him JJ, and I called him brother because as a friend I could always count on him if I needed a friend or just someone to talk with. He will be deeply missed by many.

“ I'm so sorry for your loss. I feel terrible that this has happened and I want to let you all know I am here for you if you need anything. You guys are like family to me so whatever you need I'm here. I wish there was something I can do or say to take the pain away. I do know he is up in heaven with his loves ones looking down on us, we will all see him again one day. He was an amazing person and so fun to be around he will be greatly missed. Love you guys.
