“ I got a new number and called mijo around 8pm one night and he didn't answer bc he didn't recognize the number. But I knew he looked at the phone while watching TV and just ignored it, so I texted him saying I was watching him thru his window and just seen him look at me calling and continued to watch tv. he called me right away bc he thought he had a stalker lol we both started laughing so hard and he asked me how did I know that's what he did. I told him I seen him do that before a few times. He thought that was so funny. I swear he was laughing about it for a half hour.
